MARCH 2018

Peggy's Paragraph...

The daylight is lasting longer, the temperatures are teasing us and Spring begins this month! This is a busy month and a short one with Spring break during the last week.

During the week of March 5, you will be given another DECA assessment for you to complete for your child. The results will be shared with you during parent - teacher conferences later in the month.

It has been observed that many of the children's backpacks are not emptied during the week. Important information could be hiding in there and it may go unnoticed. Please check your child's backpack daily. Many times, children are making a special picture for their mom and dad. It may not seem special to you but they look at it as a symbol of their love for you.
